

CANLET:

[Berlin representative of [Enterprise, and CANLET, publisher of the West Berlin daily Der Telegraf, travelled to South Vietnam at their own expense in January 1966 to present a token gift of medical supplies to the SVN Minister of Social Affairs on behalf of the West Berlin Publishers' Association. (A Berlin Publishers fund-raising drive in December 1965 resulted in the collection of $32,600 with which medical supplies worth an estimated $75,000 were purchased at wholesale prices.) Upon their return, they met with West German Minister of the Interior Luecke, head of the interministerial group appointed to study West German aid to Vietnam. Luecke eagerly accepted their recommendations and said that he would like to use them as the basis for his ministry's draft analysis of the Vietnam situation and for proposals for specific aid which he planned to submit to the Cabinet. (See attached list for resume of other [activities in support of U.S. position in Vietnam.
